FOREWORD

A Vining descendant, Fred Harris, of St. Marys, Ontario, began the compilation of a history and genealogy of the Vining Family as a retirement project. When he died before completing his task, his material was handed over to Glenn Vining of Port Huron, Michigan, (later Edgewater, Florida) who added results of further research and in 1965 got printed 150 copies of a 100 page book entitled Historical and Biographical Sketch of the Vining Family. Having contributed to these efforts what I knew of my father's family, I became interested in our Vinings, and this book is the product of 15 years of Vining pursuit. Murray Vining of Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, who with the help of Mrs. Warren Farnsworth of Heber City, Utah, assembled and organized records of the Maine and Connecticut Vinings, was to have collaborated with me in this publication. Tragically, he died of cancer a short time after his retirement.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I acknowledge my indebtedness to Fred and Cora Harris and to Glenn and Gertrude Vining and their daughter, Barbara Vining Proctor, for fostering my interest in Vining genealogy, thus motivating this book, and I am very grateful for the information gathered by them. (Lois) Siggelkow, Buffalo, N.Y.; Helen Donnelly, Taunton, Mass.; Mary Louise Vining, London, England; Charles H. Vining, Whangerai, New Zealand;

... as well as Librarians, Members of Historical Societies, Municipal Clerks, Church Clerks, Postmasters, Cemetery Superintendents, Newspaper Personnel, who have given assistance ...

... and finally, the future Vinings who will fill in the gaps I have left and carry on with updating.

COATS-OF-ARMS

A Coat-of-Arms consists of a shield first and foremost - and to this is added a helmet, crest (in most cases), mantling, and motto. Peers and certain other people have supporters as well (figures placed one on each side of the escutcheon).

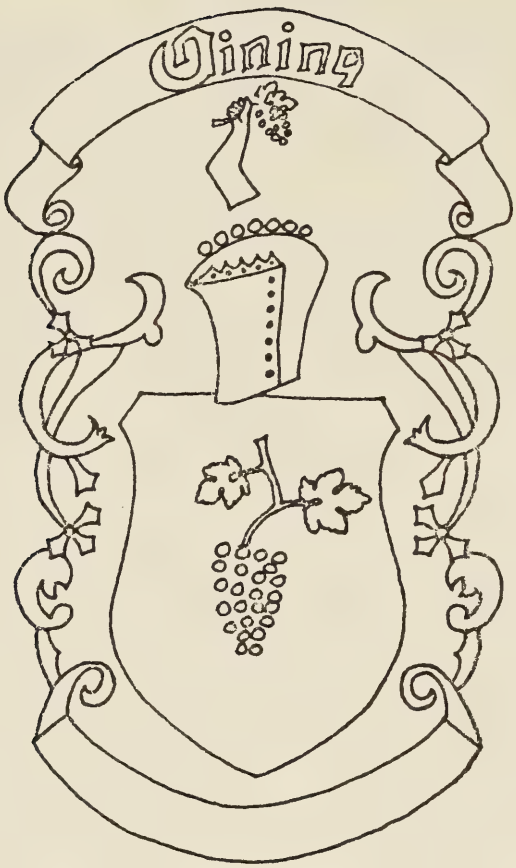
Coats-of-Arms came into being in the 12th Century owing to the need for knights to distinguish one another when they were in complete armour. Thus these Armorial Bearings which were borne on shield and surcoat (over the armour) originally served to identify the individual himself and usually also as a member of a family or group.

However, Heraldry developed without any central or controlled organization so that each man did what he thought best to suit himself. This led to many alterations in the Coat-of-Arms borne by the same family and the taking of the Arms of another family. Sometimes when a marriage took place to an heiress a man discarded his own Coat-of-Arms and adopted that of his wife's family. Or sometimes in a particular county or district a person entitled to bear a Coat-of-Arms would assume a variant of some great local magnate. So heraldic identities are not always indications of identity and pedigree. Moreover in the last 400 years many people have assumed Arms because they bear the same name as an armigerous family. A Coat-of-Arms may legitimately be handed down,a father to his children and their children and on down, but not to a brother or sister and their descendants or to any other of his relatives.

A class of men arose who were called Heralds and one of their duties was to marshall knights in tournaments so they acquired a considerable knowledge of Coats-of-Arms. In 1407 the French king formed his own heralds into a corporation and in 1484 Richard III of England did the same - hence the College of Arms or Heralds' College, Queen Victoria St., London, England.

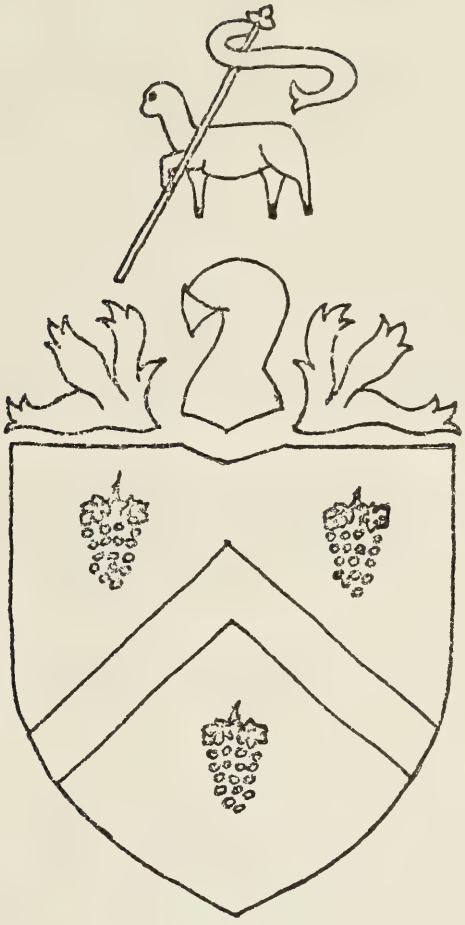
The Head of the College of Arms, a hereditary office, is the Duke of Norfolk. He is responsible for the due ordering of funerals, coronation, and other functions in which Royalty is involved. Officials are: Three Kings of Arms (the Garter and two others); six Heralds (Windsor, Lancaster, Somerset, Chester, York, Richmond); four pursuivants (Bluemantle, Rouge Dragon, Rouge Coeur, Portcullus). The College assigns Coats-of-Arms and traces lineages. But not all Coats-of-Arms have been registered: in fact, according to L.G. Pine, there are 50,000 in use which are not registered.

(References: L.G. Pine - Trace Your Ancestors; Sons of the Conqueror)



This Vining Coat-of-Arms was contributed by Malcolm Vining of Belfast, N. Ireland. It had no motto.

(See pp. 8 and 817)



This Coat-of-Arms comes from Christopher Thomas Vining of 20 Cotham Grove, Bristol, England, who wears a signet ring, as did his father Col. Percival Llewellyn Vining, bearing the Paschal Lamb. Col. P.L. Vining at one time had a fire-screen embroidered with these Arms.

(See p. 805)

Re a Coat-of-Arms as reported by FRANK WHITAKER VINING

Col. F.E. Vining has supplied these extracts from notes made by his father, Frank Whitaker Vining:

"I once made some enquiries from the Royal College of Arms asking if there was any record of Arms being granted to the family of VINING. I received very courteous letters from the CHESTER HERALD of that time (1899) H. MURRAY LANE, Esq. He returned me on payment of a fee of 5s. Od. a copy of the Arms with the correct Heraldic Colours and he declared these Arms are distinctly entered in our books as those of VINING.

The Chester Herald kindly added the following information:

The Arms of VINING appear in the 1st and 4th Quarterings and the house of LORINGE in the 2nd and 3rd, Quartered by Lord WHARTON in the reign of Charles II. This leads us to suppose that a marriage had taken place about that period, but we also find that the 1st Lord WHARTON of the time of Edward VI quartered these Arms which are sometimes put as if VINING had married WHARTON and brought in LORINGE, sometimes as if LORINGE had married WHARTON and brought in VINING."

(See p. 807)

VINING ARMS

SHIELD: Azure, a bend or, on a chief of the last, two Cornish Choughs proper.

CREST: A dexter arm embowed in armour, proper garnished or, holding a mullett of six points of the last.

MOTTO: Belonging to William Vining: VICTOR CUM VIRTUTE (Conqueror with wisdom and/or bravery)

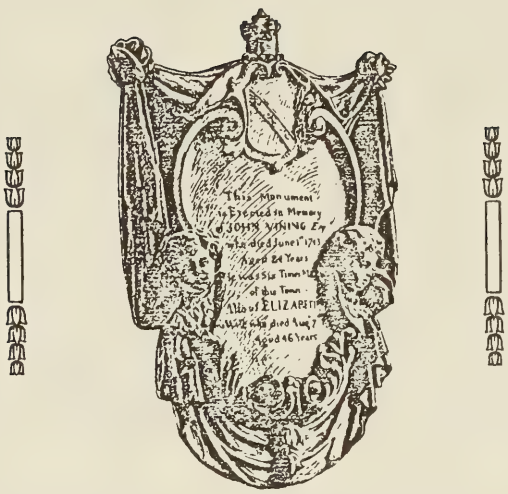
Ordinaries are the geometrical figures which are used as charges on the shield from the earliest days of heraldry. The field is the body of the shield itself; the chief is the upper (and considered most noble or high) portion of the shield; a bend is a diagonal bar from the dexter to the sinister side of the shield unless otherwise stipulated. A Cornish Chough is an heraldic bird and proper means in its natural coloring, black with red beak and legs. A dexter arm embowed means bent at the elbow, in armour, usually with a clenched fist unless otherwise stipulated, as holding a mullett. A mullett is a five-pointed star unless otherwise stated.

A common reading of the description of arms would be: a blue field with a gold diagonal bend from the right upper corner to the left lower corner; a chief, which goes across the upper portion of the shield of the last (gold) with two Cornish Choughs in natural coloring. The crest is a right arm in armour (silver) trimmed with gold holding a six pointed mullett (star).

The mantling or lambriquin surrounding the arms is always colored of the two first mentioned and main colors listed in the shield. The wreath is now a standard roping of six parts, used as a base for the crest. The helm used is that of a gentleman, in profile with the helmet closed and the five bars designated.

This description of the Armorial Bearings of William Vining was contributed by Kenneth Vining of Scituate, Massachusetts.
(see p. 752)

Note: The Bluemantle Pursuivant of the College of Arms, P.Pl. Gwynn-Jones, reported 10 Oct 1979, that the foregoing Coat-of-Arms was of a family of Vyner of Gloucestershire, the only difference being that "the chief is charged with a saltire engrailed, this being set between the two choughs". It was his opinion that"Vyner" and "Vining" were two separate surnames. There are, of course, many variants of "Vining". And there are many authentic, but unregistered Coats-of-Arms very similar in design to that of another branch of the same family, or to that of a lord or outstanding personage of the district.



This is a picture of the stonework on a pillar in St. Thomas's Church, Portsmouth, England, honoring John Vining (1659 - 1743) the "six times Mayor of Portsmouth".

Seen at the top of the picture is his Coat-of-Arms, "a bend ermine" with a triple-turreted tower. Though not registered at the College of Arms, it captivates the imagination. Why the triple turreted tower and why no vines as in other Vining Arms? I suggest these facts may have significance: 1) John Vining in early life was a joiner. 2) There are Biblical references to towers in vineyards.

(See pp. 6 and 12)

AN ALL-EMBRACING VINING COAT-OF-ARMS

ALTHOUGH SEVERAL VINING COATS-OF-ARMS AS PICTURED IN THE FOREGOING PAGES, HAVE BEEN FOUND, IT IS NOT KNOWN TO WHICH VININGS THESE FIRST BELONGED OR HOW MANY FAMILIES ARE ENTITLED TO THEM. THEREFORE I OFFER FOR CONSIDERATION THE IDEA THAT SOME VINING OF KEEN INTEREST AND CAPABILITY BE ENTRUSTED WITH THE WORK OF DESIGNING A VINING COAT-OF-ARMS WHICH WOULD ALWAYS BE THE PROPERTY OF ALL VINING DESCENDANTS EVERYWHERE. SUCH A COAT-OF-ARMS WOULD HAVE AN INTEGRAL AND RELEVANT MOTTO; WOULD INCORPORATE THE FAMILY ORIGINS - NORSEMEN, THE FRENCH FACTOR, VINEYARDS, THE ENGLISH ELEMENTS; AND WOULD INDICATE THAT VININGS IN GENERAL ARE ASSOCIATED WITH RELIGIOUS FAITH, HIGH STANDARDS, SCHOLARLY AND PRACTICAL ACHIEVEMENTS, MUSICAL AND ARTISTIC TALENT, DETERMINATION, CANDOUR, SENSITIVENESS, A SENSE OF HUMOUR, LOYALTY TO KIN, AND PRIDE IN NAME.

VINING ORIGINS

Among a number of Vining branches, my own included, there is the tradition that the Vinings originally came from France. Possibly they are descendants of the Vikings or Norsemen who invaded and settled in the vineyards of France. It seems only reasonable to associate the name with vine, vineyard, wine, etc. A few miles northwest of Avignon, France, there is the vineyard of Tavel which produces the leading rose' of France. "Tavel" is made of a blend of seven grapes and is popular in Britain and the United States. This wine is of particular interest because in a Vining Coat-of-Arms on a plaque in the possession of Malcolm Vining, Belfast, N. Ireland, the helmet shows seven grapes a-top it and seven rivets down the side. (See pp. iv and 2)

Surnames as such began to be taken up in France about the year 1000; in England, just before the Norman Conquest (1066). They fall into one of four classes: Patronymical, such as John's son (Johnson); occupational, such as John Baker or Miller; location, John Ford or Atwood; nicknames as John Loud or Longfellow. Some families claim unverified descent from an ancestor who came over from Normandy with William the Conqueror. Vinings, too, have their story: "The original Vining was armour maker to William the Conqueror and settled in Wincanton, Somerset, England." But as L. G. Pine states in Sons of the Conqueror , "Such claims leave in respectful wonderment the genealogist who knows the history of those times and what people can bring themselves to believe."

The surnames Veim, Vehim, Veyn, are known to have originated in Normandy. However, I'm not prepared to say whether they bear any relation to "Vining". Some variants of "Vining" are: Viney, Vinney, Vinen, Vinim, Vinnen, Vennen, Vineing, Venning, Vening, Wining, Vyning, Vyneing, Vynynge, Vyneinge, Vyninge, and perhaps Vyner. "Viney" comes from Vignie, Normandy. Aberic de la Vignie held lands from Philip Augustus (1165-1223) of France. "Vinen" is believed derived from Robert de Veinions of Normandy 1198. And Hugh and John de Vinon were in England about 1272. Matilda la Vine was also in England about 1272. In 1402 we have a Mathew Vynyng in Dorset, England, who was connected with the wood sales of the Royal Forest. Unfortunately, it is a fact that unless a person was a great landowner it is difficult or impossible to find any information on him, especially before the fifteenth century.

(An alluring thought to ponder is the relevancy of the Robert de Veinions line, Normandy 1198, to the Robert Vining line, early 16th century, Wincanton, Somerset, England.)

It may be that we shall never glean knowledge of the very first Vinings in England. But Vinings seem to have settled in the south west area. Wincanton, located in a beautiful district of Somerset, was the Vining centre. Of some significance, perhaps, pertaining to Vinings is the fact that an attempt was made to establish vineyards there, but without success as soil and climatic conditions were unfavourable to extensive grape growing.

Wincanton is an old town known to Romans and Saxons. There are at least twenty-nine variations of the spelling of the name. It gained notoriety in 1552 when it was so plague-smitten that travellers shunned it by miles. In 1556 the townspeople pleading their great poverty asked for a charter (probably through their great townsman James Dier, later Lord Chief Justice, and still later Knighted) to hold two fairs annually and a market every Wednesday to give prestige to the town. It was granted by Philip and Mary ,17 March 1556. Two of the ten feoffes or trustees appointed to administer this charter were John Vynynge and Richard Vyneing. When this grant was recited in later years the name of William Vyninge was also included. In the grant of 1579 John Vyninge was one of the feoffes; John Vyneinge in 1635; George Vining the Younger in 1705; and James Vining in 1725.

A Vining who married a Dyer and took the Dyer name has unnecessarily complicated all attempts to trace the Vining lineage. George Sweetman in his History of Wincanton tells about this: Rev. John Dyer became Rector of High Ham in 1459. In 1499 the year of his death he made his will, showing"that his brother John was living at Wincanton, that Richard was a son of his brother John, that he himself had lands and tenements (buildings) in the borough of Wyncaunton, and that he left them to his nephew Richard. He appointed his brother John and his son Richard his executors. A few months later, namely, on 26th January, 1500, the Wincanton John made his will. Amongst other things he says -

"I,John Vining, alias Dyer, of the parish of Vyncalton make my will in this manner. I bequeath my body to be buried in the churchyard of the church of the Blessed Peter and Paul of Wyncalton. I bequeath to the mother church of Wells 6/s. 8d. To Alexander my son all my tenement in which I now dwell with the courtyard adjacent in the town of Vylcalton between the tenement of John Petwyn on the east and the tenement or horse mill or ground called 'Vedelers Hey' on the west, to hold to him and his heirs; and if he die without issue, the said tenement shall always remain to the next of blood, to wit, from the blood of the Vyning. I bequeath to Alexander my son, a messuage (dwelling house with the adjacent buildings and yard, and the adjoining lands used in connection with the household) in the borough of Wyncalton called lee (the) Yerne house, situated between the burgage (property held in English boroughs by king or lord for a certain rent) of Knoyle gentleman on the east and the tenement of Edward Hobbys on the west....These being witnesses Sir John Aynell my curate, John Abraham (note this name) and William Webbe. To Richard my son 40 li, to John son of the same Richard 20 li and one silver cup and a piesse. (This Richard was the father, and John was the elder brother of Sir James, who, however, was not born till twelve years later.)"

Sweetman goes on to explain, "It is noticeable that John Dier of High Ham refers to his brother John, which John in 1500 calls himself 'John Vyning alias Dyer'. In 1540, in Richard Bekyns will, there is a reference to John Vyning alias Dyer. My suggestion, states Sweetman, is that John Vyning of Wincanton, a man of respectable family, probably engaged in the law, married a daughter of Alexander Dyer of Bruton, and sister of John of High Ham, and that he took the name of his wife's father - id est, John Dier. Richard Dyer was their son. Richard took a lease of Roundhill manor farm and went there to live. Several years after the birth of his son John Dyer, Sir James was born there, in 1512. Richard Dyer died in 1523." In his will he appoints his eldest sons John and John his executors. Richard was twice married. By his first wife he had John the Elder who died unmarried; by his second wife he had John the Younger, twice married with several sons and daughters; and Sir James the famous Judge who married but died without issue.

It is not clear to what extent this "alias Dyer" was continued. Information given by Kenneth Vining of Scituate, Mass., is that in Vol. 20 of the Somerset Record Society, Muster Roll of the Militia for 1569, p. 201, Richard Vynyng appears among the pykemen at Wincanton, and Laurence and John Dyer and Joan Dyer, widow, among the gentry who supplied weapons. In Vol. 27, pp. 217 - 241, Star Chamber Cases, in 1540 Robert Vynyng of Wyncaulton, husbandman, of the age of 25 or thereabouts, is a witness. He and three other men had attempted to arrest an "arrant thief". And in his History of Wincanton George Sweetman gives what he believes to be a copy of a document made in 1558, the first year of Elizabeth's reign, showing who were the Burgesses of Wincanton. At that time Sir James Dier was in the prime of life and he and his relatives are among the burgesses. The following Vinings and Dyers appear in this list: A burgage (owned by the heirs of John Marshall) in the North side of the High street, occupied by John Vyning; a burgage called Priors house (owned by John Evans, in the North side of the High Street, occupied as a brewhouse by John Vyning; a burgage (owned by Walter Tyte) in the South side of High Street, occupied by John Vyning; "John Dynning (Vyning?) holdeth freely one burgage wherein he now inhabiteth in the North side of the High Street, and one burgage called the Brewerne lying in the South side of the High Street, and one little house in the same South side (occupied by Henry Orchard), and one burgage called Makehouse in the South side (occupied by John Gylman)"; Alexander Dyer, a burgage on the South side of High Street and two other burgages called Fidlers Hay, one house called ye mantle or bakehouse - all which premises occupied by William Churchey; James Dyer, one messuage containing three quarters of a burgage in the North side of High Street, and one parcel of meadow land in Wincanton Moore,(all these premises occupied by John Ivey); John Vyning the elder son of Robert Vyning deceased, one half burgage in South side of High Street (occupied by Hugh Shudall); Thomas Vyning, one burgage in North side of Mill Street (occupied by his mother Joannah Vyning); Simon Vining, one burgage in South side of Mill Street; Lawrence Dyer (he was the eldest son of John Dyer the younger), two burgages in South side of Church Street, one little house called Rousewell house in North side of Church Street, one burgage adjoining this little house as a yard, and one burgage and half in North side of Mill Street (occupied by Thomas Bourton), and also one burgage in North side of Church Street called Culverhaies (occupied by John Persons), and a burgage in the same North side of Church Street (occupied by Thomas Noble); Agnes Vyning, widow, one burgage in West side of Mill Street (occupied by John Hardyman); John Vyning the younger son of Robert Vyning deceased, one half burgage in West side of South Street (occupied by Philip Read - this name of interest because, one hundred years later our John Vining of Weymouth, Mass., married as his second wife Mary Reed, daughter of Philip who doubtless was a descendant); John Vyning the younger son of Alexander Vining, one messuage in West side of South Street (occupied by John Mitchell) Alexander Vyning, one burgage and half called Stoke's Close in North side of Mill Street (occupied by Nicholas Swanton); Edward Vyning, one quarter burgage in East side of South Street (occupied by Henry Vining).

From the Somerset Record Society Vol. 51, p. 76, enrolled deeds at Taunton (info from Kenneth Vining, Scituate, Mass.) On Jan. 1, 1568, John Vyning of Wyncaulton, husbandman, son and heir of John Vyning the elder, late of Wyncaulton, deceased, and Elizabeth, widow of Robert James jointly sold to Jerome Dibbyn a burgage in Wincaunton in Mill Street belonging to the said Elizabeth, next to a house called Meryotts belonging to Laurence Dyer.

Among the records of The College of Arms, London, England, is a reference to John Vining who was six times Mayor of Portsmouth, England. He died in 1743 aged 84 and was buried at St. Thomas's in Portsmouth. Either his father or grandfather was William Vining of Portsmouth.. In the Portsmouth Parish Church Magazine, February 1926, there is this reference "to a very beautiful bit of 18th century stonework in the Church. It is on the pillar, opposite the Mayor's pew, and tells of John Vining, who died in 1743, after being six times Mayor of Portsmouth, and the ancestor of innumerable persons, some of whom made interesting alliances. A great grand-daughter married Admiral Mark Robinson, under whom Nelson served as lieutenant, and another was the wife of Dr. Hackner, Bishop of Chichester. One of his daughters eloped with a Captain Patrick Heron, who, according to Mr. Lilley in his history of the Church, 'may have been a grandson of James II'. The Captain became the Governor of Annapolis(Canada)"

To be found in the college records also is the abstract of will of William Vyninge of Wyncanton, Somerset, dated 13 Feb 1636/7. There are bequests to many persons, among them: "Nephews Simon Vyninge, Arthur Vyninge and Richard Vyninge, sons of my brother Alexander; Mary late wife of my brother Alexander Vyninge; nephew Thomas Vininge; George son of my nephew Nicholas Vyninge; Gertrude Vyning dt. of nephew Humfrey Vyning and Symon and Humfrey his sons; children of John Vyning weaver; Alexander Vyning son of Alexander." My correspondent at The College of Arms thought it likely that this William was in some way related to Robert Vining, owner of the White Horse Inn, Wincanton, Somerset, in the first part of the seventeenth century, and father of John Vining, Massachusetts, 1652.

I have been unable to trace the direct ancestral line of Robert, but I have incorporated all the foregoing facts about Vinings because I think that Robert must have been from the line of John Vyning alias Dyer, and his ancestors among the owners of burgages in the list of 1558. Note the names he gave his sons: John, William, Abraham, Robert, James, George. (p.20) Note that "Rousewell House" which in 1558 was the property of Laurence Dyer (son of John, son of Richard, son of John Vyning alias Dyer) and in 1686 was called "Devonshire House", was in 1686 the property of Abraham Vining (likely Robert's son) quite possibly by inheritance. In 1699 it was owned by Samuel Vyning. (Info property changes Kenneth Vining, Scituate, Mass.)

In 1558 in Wincanton there was only one Inn mentioned by name, The Hart, on the South side of High Street. On the opposite side there was a brew-house held by one John Vining, "a name of which there was an unconscionable number at that time and after". Sweetman speculates, "It may be that where 'The Hart' stood became the site of 'The White Horse', it being a common occurrence to change the name." Be that as it may, The White Horse is now in the 1900's on the North side of the High Street. On the 13th of May, 1707, there was a great fire in Wincanton. As a result a few years later many new houses of a better style were erected, among these the White Horse in 1733. (This date is still over the door.) In 1841 the Malt House or Store House of the Inn was destroyed by fire. In 1844 the feoffes put Peter Vining in charge of two fire engines, a position he retained for 23 years. The engines were kept in various places, at one time being in the White Horse yard for a few months.

It is not known definitely how The White Horse came by that name. But in the vicinity of Wincanton on one of the chalk hills,there is a huge flat-sculptured white horse, visible for miles. Quoting George Sweetman again, "The name of 'White Horse' first appears in 1655 when John Vining was in possession, having succeeded his father, Robert Vining." John, son of Robert, was christened 17 Apr 1636 (Bishops' Transcripts, Wincanton, Somerset, England). He emigrated to Massachusetts in 1652 and is unlikely to have been an "absentee" landlord. Perhaps Robert had an older son who was also called "John". Or perhaps the John who succeeded Robert was from another family of Vinings. Probably the last Vining to own the Inn was James Vining, who became one of the feoffes in 1725.

My cousin, Marjorie Vining of Ottawa, Canada, and I visited Wincanton in 1966. The town presented a fascinating contrast of the old and the new. We had tea at the White Horse Hotel (Inn). In 1977 John and Joyce (Vining) Wilson of Minneapolis, Minnesota, toured Wincanton and sadly found the Hotel closed - a super highway, by-passing the town, had taken business away. It was rumored that a new owner was about to re-open the Hotel, but in 1979 it was still closed.

Regarding emigration of the Vining family, this from Sweetman's History: "It is impossible to feel any surprise that some of this family tried to find a home across the sea. Here they simply swarmed. From April 17th, 1636 to 1721, no less than 162 of them were buried in the churchyard." In the town records of Weymouth, Massachusetts, it says that"John Vining came from Wincanton, England, in Mr. Stratton's Ship. He was a cooper and about 16 years old. He settled in Weymouth, U.S., and was a 'select man' and held other public offices for many years, and amassed a fortune. He left in his will large property to his wife and eight children. One of the overseers of his will was his kinsman Joseph Dyer."

Samuel Vining[3]'s will mentions the following children:
Richard, Elizabeth, Mary, Sarah, Abijah, Elias, Lucy, Alexander
Presumably Richard and Elizabeth are the children of Elizabeth Killiam, though Connecticut VR do not list them. Children not named in the will had perhaps died or married and/or removed.

The Vining Broom Company has been in operation for well over one hundred years. Edward Vining (presumably the Edward who was Child No. 1 of James and Almira Vining) was a broom maker and that is how the business had its beginning. The descendants of Edward located in St. Louis and Webster Groves Missouri and the names "Edward" and "James" have been handed down among them. These descendants believe that their progenitor came from the New England area but have no dates.

Inscription on his tombstone:

ISAIAH WHITMAN

Son of Mr. Daniel Whitman and Elizabeth his wife,
Of Bridgewater, in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay,
A student of Yale College, died July 25th, 1759,
In the 20th year of his age.

Just as his parents hailed the day
When joys should all their cares repay,
Just as his own fond hopes aspired
To deeds by which bright minds are fired,
Death snatched him hence in youthful bloom
And sank those hopes beneath the tomb.

M Abigail Eason 24 Apr 1777 (Esen)b.1757
(she d. 9 Sep 1832 Ellicottville,N.Y.)
D 24 Aug 1843 bur Mount Hope cty,
Rochester, N.Y.

Rev War soldier; chaplain War 1812-1814; ordained Baptist minister 15 Jun 1790 South Parish, Worthington, Mass and held various charges N.Y. State, the last being at Ellicottville, N.Y. At Ellicottville he settled on what is known as Dooley Road(ref:1876 Hist of Catt. Co), in 1876 still existing - a single, rutted dirt road, off Bryant Hill, impassable in winter. In the 1825 census he and his wife lived alone on 10 improved acres. They had 2 neat cattle, one horse, 2 hogs. Ten years later (it is thought that his son Joseph and family now lived with him) improved acreage had increased to 31. He owned 15 cattle, 3 horses, 22 sheep, 5 hogs. Thirty-two yards of fulled cloth (wool) and 40 yds not fulled flannel (wool) was woven in the home. Thirty yds of linen had been spun from the flax they grew on the land. ... Three of Ebenezer's children - Jared, Salmon, Abigail - married Bodwells and came to Canada in 1821. A fourth, Daniel, came in 1843 with some of his family. These were pioneers in Nissouri, Oxford Co., Ontario (later known as E. Nissouri Tp, Oxford Co - still later as Zorra tp - and W. Nissouri, Middlesex Co.) Jared, Salmon, Abigail and spouses were charter members of W. Nissouri Baptist Church, organized in 1820's. Salmon, ordained "Elder Vining", was its first minister; a church building was erected 1863 on land donated by him, cor conc 5, W.Nissouri and Thorndale side-road. Abigail (Vining) and James Bodwell moved to Mt. Elgin, Oxford Co about 1850 and built there the large Bodwell home "Elgin Hall", still standing more than a century later.

Note 1: "Salmon" is a Biblical name (g g gr father of King David). In records and on mem. stones it is often misspelled "Solomon" etc. It is pronounced "Sal" as in "Sally".
Note 2: There have been at least two "Vining St.Clair"s in W. Nissouri. The first was named after the Vining nurse who assisted at his birth; they are not related to the Vining family. "Vinnings" of Ontario are not related to Vinings of modern days; but were centuries ago.
Note 3: The Bodwells were the children of James Sr and Mariah (Glidden) Bodwell, Stanstead, Que.; then Upper N.Y.State; then Mt.Elgin, Ont.

M Sally Ashley (22 Oct 1790 - 1 Aug 1854) 14 Mar 1813
D 21 Mar 1831 Ellicottville, N.Y.

Was a Baptist Minister - as were his brothers, Records Wilber & Salmon Sr. His wife, nee Sally Ashley, was born in Bennington, Vermont, the dau of Thomas Ashley. The Ashleys evidently rem to Rochester, N.Y. Sometime after the death of her husband, Joseph E., Sally and prob son, Joseph A., and wife moved to the vicinity of Rochester, bringing with them the Rev. Ebenezer "who died within a few days of being 90, at the home of a grandson, near Rochester, N.Y." (American Baptist Historical Society). Sally died age 65 and is bur in the Ashley plot, Mount Hope Cty, Rochester, N.Y.

There is an "Ormella" Vining who d. 12 Nov 1841 age 25 at Gates, N.Y., (just outside Rochester, west side) and is bur in the Simon and Isaac Ashley plot, Mount Hope Cty, Rochester, N.Y. This is likely "Aurelia", Joseph A.'s wife, as these two names could appear similar in indistinct handwriting cemetery records. No further info on Joseph A. is available as of March, 1980.

Note: Records show that Daniel Vining bought parts of lot 12, conc 6, W. Nissouri Twp, Middlesex Co, Ont, Canada, in November 1857. And on July 12, 1857, "Daniel Vining, Twp of Columbia, Co of Jackson, Michigan, sold to Alexander Conley, W. Nissouri, land situated in lot 12, conc 7, in Nissouri." On Jan. 31, 1860, he gave a deed of land to his daughters Lydia and Pamelia - I think in Michigan. Miss Lizzie Vining (p.543 , who was interested in, and knowledgeable re Vining history, has stated in a sketch that Daniel after a sojourn of a few years in Canada, returned to Michigan. Sometime around 1860 this move must have taken place. It has not been found where either Daniel or his wife were at the time of their deaths.

Details follow on families of children

Note: see bottom of p. 454 for "Nissouri".

Note: Among the early settlers in(West)Nissouri the name "E.M. Vining" appears in the year 1820. My only suggestion as to the identity of this Vining is: It was sometimes the practice of a father to make a payment for land which his son or sons would later occupy. Perhaps Rev. Ebenezer Vining did this for his sons Jared and Salmon Sr. But I can't account for the middle initial "M".

WILLIAM AND MARY VINING OF PORTSMOUTH, N.H.

In the Directory of the Ancestral Heads of New England Families by Holmes, William Vining is located in Portsmouth, N.H., in 1683, but his age and country of origin are not given. Among Vinings in North America the belief persists that most of them are the descendants of two brothers who emigrated from England. We do know that John, the eldest son of Robert Vining of Wincanton, England, came to Massachusetts in 1652. And we know that John had a brother, William, who would have been seven years old in 1652. The questions remain: Did this William emigrate to America at a later date? Was he the William of Portsmouth, N.H., in 1683?

Let us consider the following: John's youngest son, born 22 July 1684, was named Benjamin. There was a Benjamin Vining who was Collector of the ports Salem and Marblehead, Mass., in the early 1700's. From there he removed first to Philadelphia, and then in 1722 to Salem, New Jersey. He died here 1 Sep 1735 age 52 years one month 22 days. Now this Benjamin would appear to be John's son except that on his gravestone is the statement that he was the son of William and Mary of Portsmouth; and in his will dated 20 Aug 1734, there is a reference to his brother Abraham of Philadelphia. John did not have a son named Abraham.

My theory is that since John died in February 1685 when his son Benjamin would be only six months old, that this Benjamin of New Jersey WAS in fact John's son and he had been adopted by William who probably was John's brother. (See p. 21)

In support of my theory: New England VR do not give information on William's family, nor does the name "Abraham" appear in these records. But the John and the William who were sons of Robert Vining had a brother, Abraham, and if William of Portsmouth were indeed Robert's son, he could very well have named his own son, Abraham, and Benjamin, if adopted, would have called him "brother". Furthermore, I have found no information on John's son Benjamin, other than his birthdate, if this Benjamin is not his son. And it is highly unlikely that John and William would each have had a son, Benjamin, of the same age. Finally, in the material which follows on Benjamin (see page 774)it will be noted that Benjamin named his oldest son "John" not "William".

Regarding the family of William and Mary Vining, I can only put forward the following suggestions:
Thomas Venney who m. Elizabeth Pease may have been a son (page 775)
Abraham of Philadelphia, another son (Abraham d. intestate and John, son of Benjamin, as next of kin was appointed administrator 17 Dec 1764.)
Benjamin adopted son??? (see next page - 774)

Did Mary die and did William then marry Johanna ----?

MORGAN FISHER VINING, and his wife
ELIZABETH JANET GORDON (GRAY) VINING

B 1890
M Elizabeth Janet Gordon Gray (b.1902) in 1929
D 1 Oct 1933

Morgan Fisher Vining was the grandson of Reuben Vining who had eloped with a young girl from a village in Kent County, England, about 1856/7, and emigrated to U.S.A. They settled in New Orleans and named their only son Lincoln. Lincoln married into an old American family, the Morgans of Kentucky, and had two children, Morgan and Beatrice.

At the time of WW 1, Morgan joined the army and attained the rank of Captain. In 1924 he became a member of the Extension Department of the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, and in 1929 married Elizabeth Gray, a teacher twelve years his junior, born in Philadelphia of Scottish ancestry.

He was granted leave of absence in the fall of 1932 to complete his studies at Columbia University for a Ph.D. degree. On October 1, 1933, when he and his wife were motoring with friends near Lake Mohopac, N.Y., the car in which they were riding was struck broadside by a car crossing the highway without first stopping, and he was instantly killed.

Thus tragically this very happy marriage of four short years came to an end. In her Autobiography, Quiet Pilgrimage, Elizabeth Gray Vining says of her husband, Morgan Fisher Vining, "To a degree that I have never known in anyone else, he had clarity and sweetness of spirit I can only call purity of heart. I used to think, but never told him, that the Beatitude 'Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God' was especially his."

After several years Elizabeth Gray Vining while working for the American Friends' Service at the end of WW 2, was approached as a possible tutor to the Crown Prince of Japan (Akihito). Her experiences in Japan became the substance for a number of books including Windows for the Crown Prince. She has remained close to the Imperial Family ever since, and has received the Third Order of the Sacred Crown from the Japanese Government.

MARY LOUISE VINING

Residence: Glenville

B 1897
UNM
D 25 Apr 1971

A Tribute: Mary Louise Vining collected and relayed to me much of the following material on Vinings in England, Ireland, and New Zealand, as well as items of historical interest to the family. And her letters during this period, 1967 - 1971, were most delightful - all this, in spite of the fact she was confined to her home with arthritis, a broken hip, and other physical ailments.

John Vining, tailor and draper, and Mary his wife, were her great grandparents. After John's death this notice appeared in a Feb. 1852 newspaper: "G.H. Noble, Taylor, Draper, etc."(purchaser of the business of her g.gr.father) "begs most respectfully to inform the clergy, gentry, and inhabitants of Buckland and its vicinity that he has purchased the business lately carried on by Mr. Vining (deceased) and hopes by strict personal attention to all orders that may be entrusted to his care, to merit a share of their patronage and support so liberally bestowed on his predecessor."

Giles Vining, farm worker, born 12 Aug 1824 was her grandfather.

Frank Giles Vining, operator of a depot for collecting farm produce, and Mary S. Bastable, were her parents. To them were born six children: four died as infants, Mary Louise and her brother, William Vining, being the only survivors.

Mary Louise Vining (1897-1971), usually called "Louise" to distinguish her from her mother who was also called "Mary", was invited by her father's sister to live in London. She became a trained nurse, working in a nursing home for eighteen years. Here, for fourteen years she nursed "The Brittle Man". (Only six known cases at the time - all his muscles had turned to bone) Then she had her own nursing home for twenty-six years until physical infirmities intervened. An unmarried cousin, Louise Churchill, had an adopted daughter, Mrs. Beattie Warne, 54 Melbourne Rd., London, whose help and affection meant much to Mary(my name for her) in her last years.

JOHN WILLIAN ALEXANDER VINING
40 Vicar's Moor Lane
Winchmore Hill
London N 21, England

After Mary Louise Vining wrote him with regard to Vining genealogy, he continued his correspondence with her as her letters seemed to afford him some solace in his bereavement of his sisters all within a year or two of each other. He stated he had a nephew and his family and an unm. niece in Shaftesbury, Dorset, but no info. available on them.

When Mary once wrote him that now she had the funds and leisure but ironically not the health to travel, "How you scrape for that rainy day and when it's possible to spend the money, you cannot, because you have lost the way to do it."

His grandfather was John William Vining of Wincanton, Somerset.
His father was James Vining, a friend of George Sweetman who wrote "The History of Wincanton" and compiled records on the Vinings.

COLUMBUS, OHIO

Elmer Vining and family lived around Columbus, Ohio. His son Arthur settled in Reynolds, Nebraska, in the 1870's. Then he went back to Ohio and married Ida Bell Loy and took her to Nebraska. Later Arthur's brother Ervey and his sister and their mother "Grammey" went to Nebraska where the sister married a Wilcox. (Elmer was evidently deceased when the rest of the family went to Nebraska.) Cecil H. Vining was Arthur's son and Kathryn Vining Sharp (R.R.1, Conway, Missouri 65632) is Cecil's daughter.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

NAMING A CHILD: In olden times parents often followed this pattern in naming their children:

First son - given his father's father's name
Second son - given his mother's father's name
Third son - given his father's name
Fourth son - given his father's eldest brother's name
First daughter - given her mother's mother's name
Second daughter - given her father's mother's name
Third daughter - given her mother's name
Fourth daughter - given her mother's eldest sister's name

"STRATTON'S FOLLY": A crenellated 90-foot tower, situated at Little Berkhamsted, Herts, England, is known as "Stratton's Folly".

According to legend, Admiral Stratton put up the tower in 1789 in the hope of catching a distant glimpse of Thames shipping. But on completion he found he could not even see boats sailing on the River Lee a few miles away. He is said to have burned all documents relating to the tower because he did not want his heirs to know how much it had cost to build. The thought is posed: Was Admiral Stratton a descendant of the "Mr. Stratton" on whose ship John Vining came to Massachusetts in 1652?

"VINING" STREET and PLACE NAMES: There are "Vining" streets in - London, England; Boston, Massachusetts; Bellingham, Washington; Auburn, Maine; and there is a Vining Road in Georgia.

There are small towns named "Vining" in Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, and the interesting town of Lee Vining in California.

The town of Lee Vining is named after a prospector Leroy Vining who made a gold discovery along the old Mono Trail in 1852. He was one of the first white men that came over the Sierra mountains down a big canyon which later was called Lee Vining. During the 1880's he built and operated a sawmill in the same canyon and sold the lumber and timber to nearby mines. He got killed in Aurora, Nevada, with a shotgun he thought wasn't loaded. (Info from Gus Hess, Mayor, Lee Vining)

WILLIAM ORCUTT CUSHING (1823 - 1903) who wrote the familiar hymns:
"O Safe to the Rock That is Higher than I"
"When He Cometh"
may be a Vining connection through descent or marriage

NEW HAMPSHIRE 1630 RECORD: There is a record of a Vining being in New Hampshire in 1630 - no further information.

TWINS and TRIPLETS: There are many, many twins among Vining descendants and Mary "Polly" Loud Pratt[5] had triplets. (Mary "Polly" Loud Pratt 5, Mercy Vining Loud 4, Thomas Vining 3, George Vining 2, John Vining 1)
(see p. 618)

"POLLY" was frequently used as nickname for "Mary".

SOME MISCELLANEOUS VININGS OF INTEREST (ENGLAND)

Mathew Vynyng was connected with the Royal Forest in Dorset in 1402.

John Vining of Wincanton in 1926 was aged 81, having been born in 1845. His great grandfather Philip died aged 101 in 1850/51 so he would have been born in 1750/51.

John Vining of Chandlers Ford near Southampton had a four-centuries-old barn which might have been a white elephant to some people. But not to John Vining. He keeps it in repair and lets it to anyone who wants to hold a dance. It's extremely popular! Shades of Richard Cromwell, son of Oliver, who was the original owner!

Vinings who were actors:

M. Vining played the part of Salanio in The Merchant of Venice on Tuesday eve, July 7, 1807, at opening of the new theatre, Worthing, England.

George J. Vining was educated at St. Peter's grammar school, Eaton's Square, London, and later in France. He came out Dec. 4, 1845, at the Newmarket Theatre as Hamlet. He was b. 1824 and d. 1875.

James Vining (1795-1870) father of George J. and son of Charles, a silversmith, was first seen in London at Covent Garden on Oct. 3, 1828, as Tybalt in Romeo and Juliet.

Frederick Vining (1790?-1871) uncle of George J., played at age 16 at Gravesend, Worthing. He married a Miss Bew who was also on the stage. His daughter Fanny Vining (Mrs. G. Gill) was also an actress.

Mrs. William Vining was at Covent Garden on Mar. 8, 1821, in Kennilworth.

Mrs. John Wood, a daughter of H. Vining, was long a comedian of high repute.

Many other Vinings, both men and women, have been on the stage in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

High Street: A number of towns in England have a street that is named "High Street". This name is equivalent to the American "Main Street".
